must be played with Zooloretto!

CONTENTS

5 special enclosures - petting zoos

Before the first game, carefully remove the tiles from their frame.

PREPARATION

Each player takes one of the petting zoos and places it face up next to his regular zoo.

PLAYING THE GAME

Follow the basic rules for Zooloretto with the following additions:

The petting zoo is for offspring. A player may only place offspring there. There is room for two.

The player may place offspring of different or the same animal type in his petting zoo.

When an offspring is born, the player must immediate decide whether to place it in his petting zoo or in the enclosure with its parents. The player may not place offspring in his petting zoo in any other way!

A player earns 1 coin for the first offspring he places in his petting zoo and 2 coins for the second offspring he places in his petting zoo.

Note: a player may not use a remodel action to move offspring to or from his petting zoo.
A player may not exchange offspring to or from his petting zoo.

Note: as in the basic game, each fertile animal may still only produce one offspring.

This expansion can be played with the basic game.

Note: this expansion should not be combined with other expansions or variants.
